PLANNED POOLING

Planned pooling is a technique that forms plaid and checkered patterns which have been used in fashion and decoration for thousands of years. There is not a specific date but it is known that these plaid patterns were worn by Celtics before Christ.

Pooling gives us many possibilities and they inspire us to create new colors for you who love colorful and modern crochet or knit pieces.

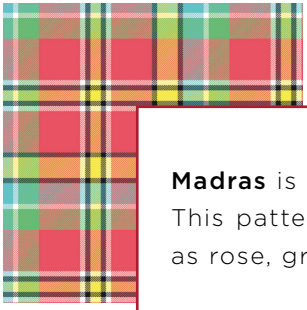
Get to know these patterns in varied colors which are fashion classics:

TARTAN

Tartan is particularly associated with Scotland as Scottish kilts have tartan patterns. It is also known that it was the first plaid pattern created. Very elegant, consisting of criss-crossed bands in multiple colors.

BURBERRY

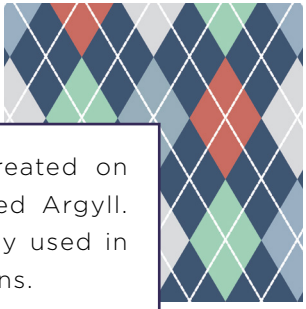
Burberry plaid pattern was created in England by the Burberry luxury fashion house in 1924. It has become the brand's trademark with a beige background with thick black and white stripes and thinner red stripes.



MADRAS

Madras is a light and colorful pattern created in India. This pattern is formed by a mix of bright colors such as rose, green and orange for lightweight fabrics.

ARGYLE



Argyle is another Scottish pattern created on the west of Scotland in a region called Argyll. This pattern is very popular and largely used in sweaters, vests, pantyhose and cardigans.

BUFFALO CHECK

Buffalo check is a robust pattern largely used in winter fabrics such as flannel. Buffalo Check creates large squares of equal size in all directions and it often includes black and red colors.

VICHY

Vichy is a vintage checkered pattern created in France. Composed by two colors with small squares, perfect for romantic and casual looks.

Tip for beginners Start with yarns with 2 colors only because it is easier and faster to understand this technique and understand the logic of color changes.

PLANNED POOLING

APPAREL FASHION

Checkered or plaid patterns are winter classics and are very popular on city streets not only for adults but also for children. It can also be included in summer clothing.

These checkered and plaid patterns are largely used in fashion shows and collections by fashion houses such as D&G, Armani and Miu Miu.

PLANNED POOLING

HOME DECOR

Checkered and plaid patterns are also seen as an atemporal trend in different parts of a house because these patterns can be included in any type of decoration. A tip to choose the best pattern for your house is to use it only as one piece such as: a piece of furniture, an accent piece or wall. You can also mix plaid patterns with striped or floral patterns with colors that match and give a bold personality to your home decor.
